9AM: SPOKE

A weekly conversation about a range of social issues; from sustainable living and human rights to local and international current affairs. Plus interviews and chatter covering books and music, arts and events – all thrown together with music new and old. Spoke. Because Speaked isn't a word.
Michelle Bennett

12 NOON: BANANA LOUNGE BROADCASTING

Focusing on contemporary music. Across the genres. Just for a stir. Elizabeth likes all kinds of stuff from all over the place. Except reggae. Does not resile from anything alt and post. Dave favours Australian music or failing that, music with a dance beat, jazz, hip hop, reggae or country. Nothing alt or post. Interviews and guests as well. If they don't know what to play, Elizabeth goes for track eight, Dave favours track one, or six.
Elizabeth McCarthy and Dave Graney

2PM: THE GOOD, THE DUB & THE GLOBAL

Explores the differences between traditional and contemporary global rhythms, the goodness of dub and other tasty treats that fall into the description of Good! Expect music from all corners of the planet near and far and a healthy bassline to kick the day along in a musical stylee.
Systa BB

7PM: THE ARCHITECTS

A weekly discussion show talking about Architecture, Sustainability and Design.
Simon Knott, Stuart Harrison & Christine Phillips
International Correspondent
Rory Hyde

8PM: AGAINST THE ARCTIC

Against The Arctic is to superfluous tones what Bill Hicks was to the American dream. From black music, electronic soul and indie pop through to chanson francaise, soundtracks, ambience and the Latin American groove, this is radio for the thinkers, the dreamers, the sentimentalists and the dancers. It might not always be easy but relationships never are.
Declan Kelly

10PM: NO WAY BACK

A weekly broadcast observing the mutations that lie in the nether regions between the genres of dance. House music as you've never heard it and disco most unlike the kind you roller skated to. Backwards is the best way Forward, Babes!
With weekly guests, pests and the rest.
Andee Frost

MIDNIGHT: O'TOMORROW

Outsiders, The Avant-Garde, Noise, Experimental, Folk, Jazz, Pop music. Underground and other suppressed and forgotten sounds from all over the world. Music is everywhere. From the past to the future. From Brunswick to Burma. From innovators AND idiots....
It's midnight. Tomorrow has arrived.
Patrick O'Brien

9AM: SMARTARTS

Visual art, theatre, film and literature.
Richard Watts

12 NOON: BREAKING AND ENTERING

Like a trend forecasting futurist from the land of tomorrow, Breaking & Entering is entirely focused on the new and the next. Current and upcoming releases from a broad range of genres are played, analysed and reviewed with live performances and studio interviews forming part of the mix. Were M.I.A. ever to make an Icelandic reggae record with Duran Duran, or if Aphex Twin formed an alt-country outfit with Daft

Punk and Madlib on vocals this is the first place you'd hear about it.
Simon Winkler and Lauren Taylor

2PM: ALL OVER THE SHOP

In their reclining years, two old gasbags have a scratch and a cack while firing up and kicking back. Subjects – media stuff, real life and anything in between. Music – see title for details.

9AM: ON THE BLOWER

Brunch dahling? Shut up, I'm on the blower. Talkback RRR style, music freestyle, presentation Tony Biggs style.
Tony Biggs

12 NOON: STYLIN'

Futuristic designs incorporating dance, beats and electronica play with colourful dashes of what the cognoscenti are calling "old school" – from afro to latin to boogie to soul. And there's always a touch of jazz for that suave sophistication. Well groomed sounds for the discerning catwalk.
Ennio Styles

2PM: FAR AND WIDE

New British and European independent guitar and dance releases, news and interviews.
Steve Wide

4PM: SKULL CAVE

The Ghost who talks, interviews, previews and reviews. All the platters and chatter that matter. Segments: 6pm The Quiz.
Stephen Walker

6:55PM: GIG GUIDE

7PM: WIRED FOR SOUND

Whether you like small speakers or tall speakers, the important thing is that you're listening to Wired For Sound's lovingly selected music mix as you end your working week. Skipping merrily through space and time to find you the greatest tracks to kick start your heart in time for weekend shenanigans, Jess McGuire only wants the best for your ears.
Jess McGuire
