Many sponsors combine different promotional strategies to engage with Triple R listeners and subscribers in ways that suit their particular event, business or service.

Promotion on Triple R offers a unique opportunity to reach an attentive, socially aware, and culturally active audience who are receptive to information regarding events, products and services in the Melbourne and Victorian communities.

Many listeners tune in to Triple R because it's a community based non-commercial radio station. As such we've developed a style of promotional sponsorship announcements which are entertaining and informative – without the hard sell. Access to the skills of our staff copywriters and all audio production of promotional campaigns are included in our spot rates.
